

ARE YOU READY?

Is your business resilient in this new world?

Restrata Business Continuity Support

With the current global restrictions and major socio-economic impact due to Covid-19 pandemic, coupled with the sharp downturn in the oil price, Business Continuity arrangements are of paramount importance to ensure organisations can continue to operate effectively at these challenging times.

With so much uncertainty and volatility affecting many industrial sectors, immediate assessment of existing Business Continuity measures and considered forward planning remain critical to the survival and prosperity of many companies in the energy sector and beyond.

Restrata's team of experts have written and successfully delivered and facilitated Business Continuity exercises and sessions, designed to be entirely relevant to each business, to ensure maximum benefit can be gained.

EVALUATE

Evaluation of the effectiveness of the current Business Continuity approach

ASSESS

Assessment of the individual approaches adopted during the current crisis and which of these should be retained within the business

IDENTIFY

Identifying any opportunities which exist, as a result of the current crisis, to consolidate and expand the business in the future

Helping you prepare for the worst Contact us today for more information